- That disabled people have the right to fully participate in society.

We operate in accordance with the principles of equality and have a printed equalities statement, which is available upon request.

We aim to provide a holistic service. This is a service which takes into account all your circumstances.

We are entirely independent and have no conflicts of interest.

We accept enquiries or referrals from:

- Individual disabled people regardless of impairment provided the disabled person is aware of and agrees with the referral.

In certain circumstances we accept referrals when the disabled person is not aware of it (for example, if they are unable to make informed decisions). Such referrals will be accepted in the best interest of the disabled person and entirely at our discretion.

All assistance, advice and information we give is given in good faith.

No liability is accepted or implied and responsibility for accepting assistance or acting upon advice and information given rests with the individual client.

We hope you will not need to complain about our service but, if you do, we have a written complaints policy, which can be obtained by contacting the office. This explains in easy to understand terms how to make your complaint and how it will be dealt with.
